Description

Intellect is a social study app where you can not only track your own study habits and progress but also see that of your friends. In the app,there will be a starting menu where you can go to any of the views listed above. We will have a database that will store these locations and data about your efficiency there. You can also have friends within the app and see where they are studying, what they are listening to, and what tasks they are working on.
